The FACTS about TEXTILE WASTE

The U.S. generates an average of 25 BILLION POUNDS of textiles* per year.¹

That's about 82 POUNDS per U.S. resident.

* Textiles includes clothing, footwear, accessories, towels, bedding, drapery, etc.

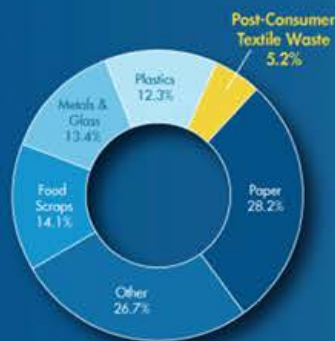

Of that 82 pounds...

15% gets donated or recycled

3.8 billion lbs recovered through donation/recycling (12 lbs per person.)

85% (70 pounds per person) goes to our landfills.²

USEPA Municipal Solid Waste Generation

That 85% adds up to about 21 BILLION POUNDS of post-consumer textile waste (PCTW) PER YEAR

More than 5.2% of all municipal solid waste generated in the U.S.³

AND THIS AMOUNT IS GROWING

Between 1999 and 2009 the volume of PCTW generated grew by 40%, while the diversion rate only increased by 2%.⁴

Which is why we set our goal:

"ZERO by 2037"

ENVIRONMENTALLY RESPONSIBLE FORMALWEAR

According to the EPA, Americans are throwing away 16 million tons of textiles every year, mostly clothing. That averages to about 70 pounds of clothing per person ending up in landfills.

Part of the problem is "fast fashion" practices. Stores that offer cheap options for the latest trends, with constant shipments coming in. When those trends don't sell, companies throw out merchandise, often damaging it, so it cannot be worn. And while these questionable practices have been brought to light, the fact remains that stores are still engaging in them.

With only 15% of all reusable textile being recycled, Sarno and Son is committing itself to sustainable fashion:

- We offer high-quality garments that don't go out of style in a few weeks
- We clean large lots with environmentally sound practices to cut down on waste and energy use
- Our fleet of vehicles only deliver when stores order merchandise
- We donate our old styles to non-profit organizations
- We recycle our packing materials, including garment bags

For less than the price of purchasing a suit or tuxedo, you can rent a great-looking outfit that won't sit in your closet until you throw it away. And after your event, someone else can wear that same great-looking outfit.

Help us help the planet.

3 Types Of Fit

WHAT SUITS YOU BEST?

Good fitting garments that meet your expectations require an understanding of these basic fit types. Each one has its own benefits and characteristics. This guide illustrates the differences, features and benefits of the three fit types.

Tell us how you would like your outfit to look and feel, and we can adjust your sizes to accommodate your fit type.

A fuller fit that gives extra room and provides the most comfort, slight bagginess and no pulling.

A. The shoulder may slope slightly giving a relaxed appearance

B. The waist of the jacket has no pulls and should be relatively flat

C. The pant legs are full with room to move

D. Lapel is flat on the chest

E. The shoulder may slope slightly causing the sleeve to be longer

F. The back is relatively flat with some fullness

G. Full fit under the arm that will appear as baggy

H. Vest covers the waist band of the pants and is fitted with minimal pulling

TRIM JACKET

More than ever, it's about fit. Doesn't matter what kind of suit or tuxedo you're looking for, the fit means everything. A trim fit will hug your shoulders and be tapered to contour to your body. A trim fit coat is paired with flat front pants and should be measured for little break.

SHIRT MEASUREMENT GUIDE

NECK: Place tape around neck at the level where the shirt collar would button. With two fingers under the tape (index and middle fingers together) determine neck size. Take mental note of the measurement. Do not pull the tape too tight and be sure the customer is comfortable.

SHIRT SLEEVE LENGTH: Starting the tape just below the back of the neck at the center of the spine, place the tape over the shoulder and then down the arm over the elbow to a point of approximately 1" past the wrist bone. Always measure longer rather than short, since the sleeve button and/or cuff link will prevent the sleeve from being too long. Remember, our shirts end on the odd length only.

COAT AND PANT MEASUREMENT GUIDE

CHEST MEASUREMENT: Ask the gentlemen being measured to raise his arms outward to the side while you place the measuring tape under his arms, over the back shoulder blades, and over the broadest part of the chest. The gentlemen may then relax his arms while you hold the tape snug with two fingers under the tape.

OVERARM MEASUREMENT: Ask the gentlemen to keep his arms down at his side while you place the measuring tape exactly in the same place as the chest measurement you just took, but include the arms in this measurement.

WAIST MEASUREMENT: Place the tape around the gentlemen's waist just below the navel. This is the height at which formal trousers are worn. Make sure tape is snug and ask customer if this is comfortable for him. Asking the customer what trouser size he wears may confirm the waist size for you (unless the customer usually wears the waist very low).

HIP MEASUREMENT: Place tape around the broadest part of the customer's hip. Make sure the tape is snug and over the widest part of the backside. Refer to trouser chart on next page for maximum hip per waist.

OUTSEAM MEASURING: With the customer standing straight, looking forward and legs slightly apart, place the start of the tape at the side of the waist level with the navel. Straighten the tape down the outside of the leg until you reach the bottom of the outside ankle bone. This is the correct outseam measurement to record. If the customer is wearing a dress shoe, measure to the floor and deduct 1 1/2".

COAT SIZE CHART

INSTRUCTIONS: Measurement theory dictates that in determining coat size, one must fit and focus on the largest part of the body. The coat size matrix is three parts:

- UPPER BODY is diagnosed with chest and overarm measurements
- MID BODY is fitted with the waist measurement
- LOWER BODY is ascertained through the hip measurement

Use the chart to assist in determining coat size. The chart is one aspect of the process. Keep in mind that product knowledge and trying on a coat truly aid in the finalization of a coat size.

TIPS ON MEASURING BOYS When measuring boys, make sure you have all the sizes recorded including height, weight, as these are as important as chest and waist. Also ask the age of the child. It often corresponds to the coat size. The Boys Coat Size Chart may help in approximating coat size. If the boy's waist is the only measurement that would require a larger tuxedo size than the rest of the measurements, consider Style #195 in a Husky Fit.

BEAUTY IS IN THE DETAILS

Socks

Give a splash of color to your groomsmen with fashion patterned socks. We offer a wide-range of socks for all the guys in your party.

Pets

For most couples, their pets are part of the family and are treated like children. Therefore, it is common to include them in the ceremony and photos.

Watches

Tell him to leave the watch at home. A tailored tuxedo will have him looking so good, people won't be paying attention to his wrists. Besides, with a good best man he won't have to worry about the time. But, if he, or you, feels it's important, he should wear something understated and elegant – which does not include that sporty watch he loves to wear to the ball game.

Belts

You should not wear a belt with any tuxedo. However, wearing suspenders under your vest is appropriate.

Cufflinks

For the groom who's wearing neutral colors to highlight his bride, this is an excellent opportunity to demonstrate some flare. Whether it's his favorite sports team or superhero, his cufflinks can be a way of showing off his personality.

Boutonnière

When you're ordering your flowers, don't forget about the groom and his groomsmen. Their boutonnières should match your bouquet, as well as the colors of your wedding.

Pocket Square

Your groom could accent his vest with a white or ivory pocket square to match the rest of his ensemble. His groomsmen should wear pocket squares that match the colors of your wedding.

Groomsmen Gifts

It is proper etiquette to give the groomsmen a gift as a personal thank you for being a part of your special day. When picking out your groomsmen gift, you should strive to be original. (And don't worry; nowhere in the wedding rulebook does it say that you have to give each of them matching gifts.)
